DR. CY. THOMPSON NOMINATED

HE HEADS THE POPULIST TICKET WITH SHUFORD FOLLOWING.

Whole Ticket Named Without Opposition, With the Same Old Duplicity in the Platform

Yesterday's Telegram told of the wrangle over the platform in the Poulist convention at Raleigh, the attempt of Harry Skinner to have the convention "act honest" and endorse Dan Hugh McLean and and Lee S. Overman, the democratic electors at large, and not try to muddle up things and put out a McKinley stalking horse and place upon the convention the burden of opposition to the constitutional amendment. Also how he was hissed by Thompson and the convention, and how they then proceeded to condemn in the platform the last legislature and the amendment, and then with the usual duplicity, declared that it should not be a party issue, but that "it must be determined by the judgment and conscience of each individual voter."

The following ticket was nominated without opposition, the empty honors going begging:

Governor, Cyrus Thompson, of Onslow county.

Lieutenant-Governor, A. C. Schuford, of Catawba county.

Secretary of State, J. B. Schulken, of Columbus.

Treasurer, W H. Worth, of Guilford.

Auditor, H. W. Ayer, of Wake.

Attorney General, H. F. Seawell, of Moore.

State Superintendent of Education, N. C. English, of Randolph.

Chairman of Corporation Commission, A. S. Peace, of Granville.

Corporation Commission, J. T. Paschal, of Chatham.

Commissioner of Agriculture, J. M. Mewborne, of Lenoir.

Commissioner of Labor, J. Y. Hamrick, of Cleveland.

Judge Tenth district, L. L. Whitherspoon, of Catawba.

Electors at large, R. B Davis, of New Hanover, and Wm. D. Merritt, of Person.

The Butlerites got complete control of everything, and of course the usual stamp of insincerity was put upon everything.

In concluding its deliverence on the amendment the platform says:

"The constitutional question presented by the proposed amendment is one that must be determined by the judgment and conscience of each individual voter. Therefore, we do not make it a party question. We state the evils and dangers and leave the voters of all parties to pass their verdict in the light of these facts. The question is above party and no one should be more active and axious in our judgment to defeat it than the rank and file of the democratic party."

Then after declaring that the populist party "is and has always been more distinctly than any other party in North Carolina a white man's party and is more anxious than any other party to solve the race problem," the platform goes on to propose in lieu of the amendment as "the best solution of the race question that is possible as long as the 15th amendment to the constitution of the United Stands," the following:

"Amend Section V, Article 6, of the Constitution of North Carolina by insertion among the disqualifications for office, enumerated therein, the following, viz: All negroes and all persons of negro decent to the third generation inclusive."

The News and Observer says:

The convention was very poorly attended, when compared with former conventions and there was a very sad lack of the old-time enthusiasm that has animated so many gatherings of this kind.

More than a fourth of the counties were not represented, and many of those that were represented had only one or two delegates present. In fact Wake, Chatham and Franklin had about half the delegates in the convention.

Half a hour after the convention was called to order a count of noses showed the following result:

In the gallery there were fifty-three negroes and nine white men and a boy.

On the floor of the hall there were 300 white people and 2 negroes—Wm. Rogers of the Revenue Department and T. H. Wilson, of Harris Store precinct, Wake county. Only about three-fourths of the 300 white people present were delegates. The other 75 were made up of Republican wet nurses, visiting Fusion statesmen and Democratic spectators.

In the hall there were many well-known pie-eaters.

"I can always come nearer finding what I want in children's shoes here than anywhere else in town," said a lady in our store last week. Just now our line of children's saldals, oxfords, and shoes is specially full and complete. Thacker & Brockmann.

No Cure—No Pay.

CARTRIDGES ON HIS BREAST.

The Diary of Capt. Newman Shows his Death was Minutely Planned.

The diary of Capt. J. J. Newman, who blew himself to atoms with dynamite at the Dutch Creek Mine, near Salisbury early Tuesday morning, shows that the deed was carefully planned and executed. He placed himself in his own house, held dynamite upon his breast till the fuse burned and blew his body and the house into atoms. The explosion occurred at four o'clock, and the entries of the diary found yesterday one dates as late as 3 45, and ran thus:

The fates are against me.

1900. The dawn opens to me void of life, light, home and comfort and continues so far months.

Feb. 22. Life is not worth the living

April 16. All that life is worth living for has vanished.

April 17, 12:01 a. m. Decided to come to Dutch Creek and die, it being my own natural home. By 3:45 a. m., I will be gone hence. JOE.

3:25 a. m. I prepare the dynamite. 'Tis done.

I am not afraid to die. 'Tis sweet to die for those one loves.

So good bye all.

3:38 a. m. I tie five cartridges together and prepare to die by them. Short fuse. Good bye.

BOERS MUCH DISCONCERTED.

PRESENT CONDITION OF AFFAIRS HIGHLY UNSATISFACTORY.

The Successful Efforts of British Authorities in Fighting Fever Among the Prisoners a Cause of Gratitude.

By Wire to the Telegram.

London, April 19—A despatch says that the Boers are much disconcerted at present about the condition of affairs. Their fortifications, and forces, numbering about fifteen thousand, are spread over ridges in contemplation of a British advance through Waschbunk valley north of Ladysmith, which has not been occupied. The Boer patriots are very active and constantly laying traps.

BRITISH TAKE CARE OF BOER PRISONERS.

Capetown, April 19—The successful efforts of the military authorities in fighting the fever epidemic among the Boer prisoners has appealed to the gratitude of even the pronounced Dutch newspapers. Duplessis, the Secretary of the Boer sick fund, has a letter today which says the British military authorities deserve deep gratitude for their willingness to afford every relief possible. It adds that for the present the friends and sympathizers of the Boer prisoners may rest assured that everything necessary for their comfort will be done.

CARRINGTON ARRIVED AT BEIRA.

London, April 18—Gen. Carrington has arrived at Beira, in Portugese, East Africa. It will take weeks for him to concencrate his forces on the borders of the Transvaal or to approach Mafeking. Accordingly the rumor is circulated at Lorenzo Marquez that a Boer force has been sent to intercept him, but it is not thought to be of sufficient strength to cause anxiety.

US AND THE TURK.

London Is Interested Because The Sick Man Is Up to Something.

By Wire to the Telegram.

London, April 19—Keen interest is manifested here in the threatened action of the United States against Turkey, particularly in view of the Sultan's increase of customs duties. The fourth collective note of the Embassies objecting to an increase without previous understanding with the powers was handed to the Turkish Government yesterday, but Turkey maintains such a firm attitude that the suspicion is growing that some covert act is on foot for frustrating the effect of the note.

ENCOURAGING SIGNS.

Candidates Used to Steer Clear in Their Speeches But Not Now.

Charlotte Observer.

These paragraphs occurred in Mr. Bryant's report in yesterday's paper of the speaking of the Democratic candidates at Winston Tuesday:

It is noticeable that all the candidates are saying much about education. Mr. Aycock struck the key-note in his speech today, when he said: "I want to say to you that I am going to do all within my power to provide for every child in the State so that he or she can obtain an education. Now if you do not want to vote for me, knowing how I stand, don't do it."

This sentiment is growing all the time. Every candidate has something to say about educating the children of the State. The people receive such words of encouragement with great enthusiasm.

This is indeed encouraging. Heretofore the speaking in North Carolina in behalf of education has been generally confined to the teachers at the county institutes during their summer campaigns. The political speakers have generally given the subject a wide berth. Now they are staking their chances of election on the issue and the people hear them gladly. The reproach of illiteracy will yet be removed from the good old State, and may God speed the day!

A THOUSAND TONGUES.

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. Kings' New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

The Strikers Say Rotella Furnished Information to the Sheriff.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Croton, April 19—Sheriff Molloy, escorted by a troop of cavalry, has left the Italian settlement to arrest thirty strikers charged with inciting riot. The strikers have turned against Rotella, their leader. They say he went over to the contractors and furnished information that enabled the sheriff to secure the warrants.

A TERRIBLE DEATH.

A Young Girl Almost Cremated in Hope Mills.

Fayetteville Observer.

Early Sunday morning the pretty little village of Hope Mills was shocked by one of the most awful occurrences in the history of this section—the burning to death of Miss Fortner, a young woman, just sixteen years of age.

Miss Fortner was in the act of kindling the kitchen fire, when her clothing became ignited. She ran into the room where her father, the only occupant of the house, was asleep, but before he could render her any assistance she became panic-stricken, and ran hither and thither, the flames gradually encircling her whole person. In a few moments every stitch of her clothing was burned off, and she was a mass of charred flesh, dying shortly in great agony.

The attention of Mr. Burkman, who lives near by, was attracted by what appeared to be a huge pillar of fire moving rapidly about, and, when he reached the poor girl, she was beyond all help.

TREES BY THE ROADSIDE.

Must Not Be Placed So as to Exclude Wind and Sun.

Country roads can be made far more useful and attractive than they usually are, and this may be secured by the expenditure of only a small amount of labor and money. Although such improvements are not necessary, they make the surroundings attractive and inviting and add to the value of property and the pleasure of the traveler.

Not only should brush and weeds be removed from the roadside, but grass should be sown, trees planted and a side path or walk be prepared for the use of women, children and other pedestrians going to and coming from church, school and places of business and amusement.

If trees are planted alongside the road, they should be far enough back to admit the wind and sun. Most strong growing trees are apt to extend their roots under the gutters and even beneath the roadway if they are planted too close to the roadside. Even if they be planted at a safe distance those varieties should be selected which send their roots downward rather than horizontally. The most useful and beautiful tree corresponding with these requirements is the chestnut, while certain varieties of the pear, cherry and mulberry answer the same purpose. Where there is no danger of roots damaging the subdrainage or the substructure of the road some other favorite varieties would be elms, rock maples, horse chestnuts, beeches, pines and cedars. Climate, variety of species selected and good judgment will determine the distance between such trees. Elms should be 30 feet apart, while the less spreading varieties need not be so far. The trunks should be trimmed to a considerable height, so as to admit the sun and air. Fruit trees are planted along the roadsides in Germany and Switzerland, while mulberry trees may be seen along the roads in France, serving the twofold purpose of food for silkworms and shade. If some of our many varieties of useful, fruitful and beautiful trees were planted along the roads in this country and if some means could be devised for protecting the product, enough revenue could be derived therefrom to pay for the maintenance of the road along which they throw their grateful shade.

Good Gravel Mixture.

A gravel mixture containing ten parts of pebbles ranging from an eighth of an inch to an inch in diameter, six parts of sand and four parts of clay is said to be an excellent material for surfacing roads. Experiments have shown that this combination as a whole will neither "run" nor crumble under the wheel of a wagon.—Pneumatic.

PROGRESS IN CREEDS.

The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, who has of recent years gotten himself more talked of in the newspapers than most humble and devout preachers of the Word, preached a sermon Sunday which was an attack upon the Confession of Faith of the Presbyterian church, and a demand for a new one. Of course no one pays much attention to Dr. Parkhurst, but his effort serves as a reminder of the acute discussion now in progress in the Northern Presbyterian church as to the truth of the Confession which is that church's absolute standard of faith. The discussion has reached a very much more serious stage than it ever has before, though it recently caused, if we are not mistaken, the General Assembly to think it necessary to reaffirm the Confession.

We say that the discussion is more serious now because more ministers have followed the lead and declared against the Confession as it stands, and the Interior, the leading paper of the Northern church, demands the formulation of a new creed. Beside the ministers who remain in the church to carry on the fight for a reformation of the articles, some few have left the church entirely, the most notable case being that of Dr. McGiffert. Altogether the pressure for some kind of revision is strong, very strong, but what is more, it is gaining strength. It has been growing with more or less rapidity ever since the famous trial of Dr. Charles A. Briggs, the Union Seminary professor, who made the first attack, and who is now a minister of the Episcopal church. Dr. Briggs was turned out, Dr. McGiffert probably saved himself by going out voluntarily, and some others may go out.

But will the movement be stopped, or will it soon grow strong enough to revise the articles, or will the desertion to other organizations finally force a compromise in some way? This movement or spirit of rebellion against the old expressions of doctrines exists in all denominations, more quietly, to be sure, but there all the same. Perhaps the reason why the struggle is more conspicuous in the Presbyterian church is because that creed is more pronounced on certain tenets and the church thrusts forward and defends its Confession more conspicuously than other church organizations do.

This revolt rests clearly upon the principle that the law of progress operates upon creeds as it does upon philosophy or science, and agriculture or mechanics. What may once have been held as demonstrable truth in many branches of learning and belief is now known to be false. Why should not the same progress take place in regard to creeds? We say this in all reverence, but mindful of the fact that creeds are made with regard to the supposed needs of the time of their formulation as well as in conformity with the existing state of knowledge, and necessarily embodying the mistakes of the time. There is no more reason why advancing knowledge and superior methods of interpretation should not revise creeds than that invention and knowledge should not revise methods of handling electricity.

The specially imported attraction at the Populist convention yesterday was Congressman Southerland, of Nebraska, who has a striking resemblance to Mr. Bryan. In eulogizing Butler, the visiting statesman said:

Senator Butler is as well known in Nebraska as Wm. V. Allen. His name is a household word in our State. His statesmanship, courage and judgment is admired in our State. I know that the people of Nebraska will elect a legislature that will return Wm. V Allen to the United States Senate from Nebraska. I take it that you North Carolinians will do your duty I have known Senator Butler for three years, and I can say truthfully that Senator Butler has no peer in the United States Senate."

As a slight return for the information that Senator Butler has no peer in the United States Senate, we will inform the brilliant chump from Nebraska that the people of North Carolina will do their duty and take good care of the peerless statesman. Oh, yes, we'll take care of him.

Of course all the ludicrous little play down at Raleigh yesterday by the remnants of the late Populist party was preliminary to the usual biennial sale.

If you want a husband, advertise for him in the Durham Sun. Advertising did it.

MONUMENT TO DAVIS

Daughters of the Confederacy Working to Raise the Amount Needed.

Richmond Dispatch.

The Daughters of the Confederacy are now working energetically to raise the sum needed to to erect a monument to President Jefferson Davis in Monroe Park. The status of the work is fully explained by the following letter sent to the various chapters by Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, chairman of the central committee:

LETTER SENT OUT.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy at the request of the United Confederate Veterans, have assumed the erection of the monument to President Davis.

The veterans have now in the State Bank of Richmond, January 29, 19 0, the sum of $20,590 62, bearing interest, which amount, with such additional funds as the Daughters see fit to contribute, will be used for this monument.

Many causes appeal to us: The disabled veterans must be provided for, having no country to pension them; the cry of the widows and orphans of Confederate veterans is ever in our ears; the unmarked graves of our 30,000 soldiers who died in prison beg for recognition at our hand.

But the veterans ask us to build this monument, promising their assistance. Let us erect it at once, while they are here to see it. The ranks are fast thinning out, and there are no recruits.

CAMP ASKED TO PLEDGE.

A motion was made by Miss Kate Mason Rowland, at the convention in Baltimore, three years ago, and again in Richmond, that Mr. Davis' birthday, June 3rd, be made a legal holiday in the Southern States. Florida, Georgia, and Virginia have done this. The 3rd of June falls on Sunday this year, and as it is one of the days of the reunion at Louisville, let each camp on that day pledge to raise $10, or as much as possible. Let every chapter adopt Mrs. Cooley's motion, and have an entertainment as near to that day as they can, since it falls on Sunday.

Let every camp of veterans and sons or veterans, every chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, bestir themselves, and soon our work will be accomplished.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM.

Kenna, Jackson Co., W. Va.

About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a single attack since.—A. B. # BOILS AND CARBUNCLES

These unwelcome visitors usually appear in the spring or summer, when the blood is making an extra effort to free itself from the many impurities that have accumulated during the winter months.

Carbuncles, which are more painful and dangerous, come most frequently on the back of the neck, eating great holes in the flesh, exhaust the strength and often prove fatal. Boils are regarded by some people as blessings, and they patiently and uncomplainingly endure the pain and inconvenience under the mistaken idea that their health is being benefitted, that their blood is too thick anyway, and this is Nature's plan of thinning it. The blood is not too rich or too thick, but is diseased—is full of poison—and unless relieved the entire system will suffer. The boil or carbuncle gives warning of serious internal troubles, which are only waiting for a favorable opportunity to develop. Many an old sore, running ulcer, even cancer, is the result of a neglected boil.

Baneful Boils

Keep the blood pure, and it will keep the skin clear of all the irritating impurities that cause these painful, disfiguring diseases.

Dangerous Carbuncles

S. S. S. cures boils and carbuncles easily and permanently by reinforcing, purifying and building up the blood and ridding the system of all accumulated waste matter.

Mr. R. M. Pratt, Cave, S. C., writes: "For twenty years I was sorely afflicted with boils and carbuncles caused by impure blood. It is impossible to describe my suffering; part of the time being unable to work or sleep. Several doctors treated me, and I tried all the so-called blood remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good. During the summer of 1898 I was persuaded to try S. S. S., and after taking several bottles was entirely cured, and have had no return of these painful pests up to the present time."

S. S. S. is made of roots and herbs which act directly on the blood, and all poisons, no matter how deep-seated, are soon overcome and driven out by this powerful purely vegetable medicine.

S. S. S. is not a new, untried remedy, but for fifty years has been curing all kinds of blood and skin diseases. It has cured thousands, and will cure you. It is a pleasant tonic as well as blood purifier—improves the appetite and digestion, builds up your general health and keeps your blood in order.

HORSELESS CARRIAGES.

Effect They Will Have on the Pavements of the Future.

In view of the wide development in the form and large increase in the number of horseless carriages which is now looked for, the effect produced by the general use of motor vehicles upon the problems of street paving, maintenance and cleaning is now being attentively considered, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The municipal engineer admits that at present the effect of the horse's hoof on paved surfaces is one of the most serious difficulties by which he is confronted. If an effectual method of destroying our streets were desired, it would be hard to devise anything better than the hammering, cutting, twisting and grinding of the hoofs of a horse's feet.

A ponderous draft horse, for instance, weighing close to a ton, with feet shod with heavy, sharp cornered iron plates as a traction base, pounding, denting and scraping from morning till night, is a most efficient engine of destruction. This factor necessarily affects all paving construction. It is the only justification of the granite block pavement, with all its variations. Asphalt, paving brick and the other modern pavements are greatly modified by the necessity of guarding against the destructive action of the horse's hoof.

The repairs required by the modern pavement are due to this cause even much more than to the iron tired wagon wheels, with their angular edges. The hardest granite blocks grind off until too uneven for use and must be resurfaced with asphalt or relaid. Paving brick is apt to go to pieces suddenly, especially where there is the slightest softness. Under the pounding of the feet of the horse macadam streets and roads are maintained in tolerable condition only by dint of closest attention and repairing, and the same destructive agency finds out all the weak spots in the asphalt.

T. Conyngton, in discussing the subject, even anticipates the possible legal prohibition of horses on our business streets. He regards as an early development the abolition of granite and stone blocks in all their forms. Paving brick may be laid on lighter foundations and with greater smoothness. Asphalt, above all, will be the predominant pavement, perhaps more lightly laid and at less cost; macadam and gravel rolled as smooth as possible will remarkably promote ease of travel, and even an ordinary dirt road, properly graded, rolled down and drained, will be efficient and tolerable in all except the very worst of weather.

The amateur detective is as humorous a character as any of Shakespeare's clowns, or even old Dogberry himself. He finds the most astonishing clues, and generally follows them until he brings up about as far away from the solution of the mystery as mortal well may be. But the specialist in the detection of crime, Sherlock Holmes, is a man who reads clues, as the Indian reads a trail. Every step he takes is a step to success.

It's much the same way in the detection of disease. While the amateur is blundering along over misleading symptoms, the specialist goes right to the real cause and puts an arresting hand upon the disease. It is in such a way that Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., succeeds in hunting out and arresting diseases, where the less experienced practitioners fail. More than thirty years of special study and experience have enabled Dr. Pierce to read symptoms as easily and as truly as the Indian reads a trail which is without a hint for a less acute vision than his. Any sick person can consult Dr. Pierce by letter absolutely without charge. Each letter is read in private and answered in private. Its contents are held as sacredly confidential. It is answered with fatherly feeling as well as medical skill and the reply is sent sealed in a perfectly plain envelope, that there may be no third party to the correspondence. Thousands have taken the first step to health by writing to Dr. Pierce. No writer ever regretted writing. Ninety-eight in every hundred treated have been positively cured. If you are afflicted with any old obstinate ailment write to-day, you will be one day nearer health. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Packing For Moving.

"If you will only pack things in small boxes," says the woman who knows how to move, "you will have the men who move you in a comparatively beatific state of mind; books, for instance. It is strange, but every woman who has books to move immediately gets the biggest box she can find for them. Books are heavy anyway, and big boxes are liable to break with their weight, and it is almost impossible to move them. They will fit just as well into small, square boxes in which packages of starch or oatmeal have come, and they will pack into the moving van better, and the men can handle great numbers of them with little trouble."—New York Times.

How Far Apart Did They Live?

"I was at the capitol one day," said a Boston lawyer, "in attendance upon a committee having in charge a bill in which my clients are interested. On the long, leather covered settee near me two southern members were smoking and conversing. The following words were jotted down by me verbatim:

"'Sajah, I was down among youh people last summer, and I wanted to find Gen'al Blood's plantation, but I got off my road. Where does he live from youh place, majah?'

"'Why, colon'l, he lives near me, a right smart piece south on the river.'

"'Does he live a right smart smart piece or a right smart right smart piece south, majah?'

"'Well, it isn't as far as either of those pieces; just a right smart piece, colon'l.'

"'Then that must be the reason I missed it. I went too far around the river bend.'

"Now, these gentlemen understood each other beyond a doubt. But what I want to know is, how many miles was it from the major's plantation to the general's? And for the life of me I can't solve the question. It haunted me so that I stumbled two or three times when subsequently making my argument before the committee, of which these two members formed a part."—Washington Star.

ROBBED THE GRAVE

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Baseball magnates are not the only people who can be depended upon to settle old scores.

GOOD GRAVEL ROADS.

FAR SUPERIOR TO THE COMMON EARTH HIGHWAY.

Information as to the Selection of Material—Preparing the Foundation—Grading and Rolling Very Important.

In connection with the building and maintenance of gravel roads the most important matter to consider is that of selecting the proper material. A small proportion of argillaceous sand, clayey, or earthly matter contained in some gravel enables it to pack readily and consolidate under traffic or the road roller. Seaside and river gravel, which is composed usually of rounded, water worn pebbles, is unfit for surfacing roads. The small stones of which they are composed, having no angular projections or sharp edges, easily move or slide against each other and will not bind together, and even when mixed with clay may turn freely, causing the whole surface to be loose, like materials in a shaken sieve.

Inferior qualities of gravel can sometimes be used for foundations, but where it becomes necessary to employ such material even for that purpose it is well to mix just enough sandy or clayey loam to bind it firmly together. For the wearing surface or the top layer the pebbles should, if possible, be comparatively clean, hard, angular and tough, so that they will readily consolidate and will not be easily pulverized by the impact of traffic into dust and mud. They should be coarse, varying in size from half an inch to an inch and one-half.

Where blue gravel or hardpan and clean bank gravel are procurable a good road may be made by mixing the two together. Pit gravel or gravel dug from the earth, as a rule, contains too much earthy matter. This may, however, be removed by sifting. For this purpose two sieves are necessary, through which the gravel should be thrown. The meshes of one sieve should be one and one-half or two inches in diameter, while the meshes of the other should be three-fourths of an inch. All pebbles which will not go through the one and one-half inch meshes should be rejected or broken so that they will go through. All material which sifts through the three-fourths inch meshes should be rejected for the road, but may be used in making side paths. The excellent road which can be built from materials prepared in this way is so far superior to the one made of the natural clayey material that the expense and trouble of sifting are many times repaid.

Some earth roads may be greatly improved by covering the surface with a layer of three or four inches of gravel, and sometimes even a thinner layer may prove of very great benefit if kept in proper repair. The subsoil of such roadway ought, however, to be well drained or of a light and porous nature. Roads constructed over clay soils require a layer of at least six inches of gravel. The gravel must be deep enough to prevent the weight of traffic forcing the surface material into weak places in the clay beneath, and also to prevent the surface water from percolating through and softening the clay and causing the roadway to be torn up.

Owing to a lack of knowledge regarding construction, indifference or carelessness in building or improving, roads made of gravel are often very much worse than they ought to be. Some of them are made by simply dumping the material into ruts, mudholes or butter-like depressions or on unimproved foundation and are left thus for traffic to consolidate, while others are made by covering the surface with inferior material without any attention being paid to the fundamental principles of drainage. As a result of such thoughtless and haphazard methods the road usually becomes rougher and more completely covered with holes than before.

In constructing a gravel road the roadbed should first be brought to the proper grade. Ordinarily an excavation is then made to the depth of 8 or 10 inches, varying in width with the requirements of traffic. For a farm or farming community the width need not be greater than 10 or 12 feet. A roadway which is too wide is not only useless, but the extra width is a positive damage. Any width beyond that needed for the traffic is not only a waste of money in constructing the road, but is the cause of a never ending expense in maintaining it. The surface of the roadbed should preferably have a fall from the center to the sides the same as that to be given the finished road, and should, if possible, be thoroughly rolled and consolidated until smooth and firm.

A layer, not thicker than four inches, of good gravel, such as that recommended above, should then be spread evenly over the prepared roadbed.

If a roller cannot be had, the road is thrown open to traffic until it becomes well consolidated, but it is impossible to properly consolidate materials by the movement of vehicles over the road, and if this means is pursued constant watchfulness is necessary to prevent unequal wear and to keep the surface smooth and free from ruts. The work may be hastened and facilitated by the use of a horse roller or light steam roller, and, of course, far better results can be accomplished by this means. If the gravel be too dry to consolidate easily, it should be kept moist by sprinkling. It should not, however, be made too wet, as an earthy or clayey matter in the gravel is liable to be dissolved.

As soon as the first layer has been properly consolidated a second, third and, if necessary, fourth layer, each three or four inches in thickness, is spread on and treated in the same manner, until the road is built up to the required thickness and cross section. The thickness in most cases need not be greater than 10 or 12 inches, and the fall from the center to the sides ought not to be greater than 1 foot in 20 feet, or less than 1 in 25.

MANY LIVES SAVED

In almost every neighborhood there is some one whose life has been saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or who has been cured of chronic diarrhoea by the use of that medicine. Such persons make a point of telling of it whenever an opportunity offers, hoping that it may be the means of saving other lives. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

A Chance for King Coal.

Chicago Tribune.

Even the New York World is enough of an imperialist to do a little shouting for King Coal. This royal personage is no relative of the "merry old soul" with bibulous tendencies. He belongs to the dynasty founded by King Cotton and now so ably and opulently represented by King Corn. There are those who are willing to assert, even in the presence of 40 cent corn, that the day will come when the throne will be occupied by coal. Europe's coal famine has at last begun to have the natural effect of attracting American exports. The initial sale of a little lot of 2,000,000 tons of Alabama coal to be sent to Europe via New Orleans is propably but the forerunner of a growing export trade in soft coal from all the Eastern and Southern coal areas within easy reach of the ocean. There is practically no limit to the possibilities of this traffic, and the more our export and home manufactures expand the better will be the prospect of regal honors for the new candidate. At present, however, the West is quite content to cry long life to King Corn.

It's the rich people who make poor excuses.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for conghs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

It do s't take a bright woman to cast reflections.

FOR THE BABIES.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucous, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.S

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and others. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

W. W. Mayhew, Merton, Wis., says, "I consider One Minute Cough Cure a most wonderful medicine, quick and safe." It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. SEVEN RUNNING SORES CURED

—BY—

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

THE GREAT SPRING MEDICINE.

JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA as a Blood Food and Nerve Energizer, is the greatest SPRING MEDICINE ever discovered. It comes as a rich blessing from heaven to the "worn out," the run down, the overworked and debilitated. That "tired feeling," those "sinking spells," the languor and despondency which arise from badly nourished nerves, from thin, vitiated blood and an underfed body, vanish as if by a magic spell. The weariness, lassitude and nervous prostration which accompany the spring time and the heat of summer, are conquered and banished at once. For every form of neurasthenia, and all ailments of the brain and nerve, Insomnia hysteria and nervousness generally, it is almost a specific. It furnishes the very elements to rebuild worn-out nerve tissues. It feeds brain, nerve centers and nerves, calming and equalizing their action; it makes rich, red, honest blood. Newness of life, new hope, new strength follow its faithful use. It makes the weak strong, and the old young again.

It was the antiquated (but now happily exploded) method in the good old times, to treat Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Cancer and other troublesome disorders arising from BLOOD TAINT with powerful alteratives, such as mercury, arsenic and other mineral agents. It was expected by this treatment that the poison could be killed while the blood was left to course through its channels holding in its circulation the specific germs of the disease. But in this way, every part of the body became more or less diseased. Nothing can be more terrible than a horribly destructive blood taint. It not only attacks virulently the different structures of the body, but many times the bones are honey-combed and destroyed. It often seeks out the nerves and spinal cord, and again it will bring decay and death to some vital organ, as the kidneys, liver or stomach. There is only one scientific method for the cure of blood taint. That is, PURIFICATION! Every particle of the blood must be removed through the excretory channels, the lungs, kidneys, bowels, liver and skin. "First pure, then peaceable." The great restorative, reconstructive and vitalizer of the blood, JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, not only radically and exhaustively removes the taint, but also removes all mercury, calomel and other minerals, and fills the veins and arteries with the ruby, glowing current of vitality. "The blood is the life." Good health means pure blood. The old and reliable remedy, JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, is universally regarded as the greatest Blood Purifier ever discovered. This fact is now established beyond question or cavil.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSON, VA., Dec. 31.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

THE BIG SUIT NOW ON.

Matter in Arbitration Between Nantucket and Finishing Mills.

As stated in these columns yesterday there is a matter of difference of several thousand dollars, perhaps upward of sen thousand, between the Nantucket Cotton Mills, of Reidsville, and the Finishing Mills, of this city. The controversy to be settled has been submitted by the parties to the suit to a board of arbitrators composed of following gentlemen: Geo. W. Watts, of Durham, B. S. Royster of Oxford, and John C. Lowry, of Philadelphia. A strong array of legal talent is employed on both sides and a hearing was begun in the S. L. & T. Building today.

The matter of variance grew out of a dispute over the measurement of goods handled and finished for market by the Finishing Mills for the Nantucket Mills. The latter mill only weaves the cloth and has it finished in this city. It promises to be a lengthy hearing.

FIFTH DISTRICT REPUBLICANS.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MET HERE YESTERDAY.

Congressional Convention Will be Held in Greensboro on the 29th Day of May.

The executive committee of the Fifth congressional district met in this city yesterday evening. Three counties out of the nine which compose the district, were represented by members of the committee, two were here by proxy and four were not represented. J. F. Wray, of Reidsville, was chosen chairman and J. M. Sykes, of Oxford, secretary.

The district convention to nominate a candidate for congress and to elect delegates to the National republican convention, which meets in Philadelphia June 16, was called to meet in the city of Greensboro on Tuesday, May 29. There are a number of candidates for the congressional nomination. The following names have been given to us as aspirants for that honor: Ex Judge Spencer B. Adams, of Greensboro; D. A. Long, of Alamance; J. R. Joyce and J. F. Wray, of Reidsville; Jas A. Chaek, of Orange; R. J. Petree, of Stokes. It is believed that Judge Adams has the inside track and that he will win out and again be the opponent of the democratic nominee in this district for congress.

One of the other candidates mentioned for congress is now slated by the republicans to make the race for lieutenant governor. That man is Mr. D. A. Long, of Alamance, the ex-college president, and the "friend of Hanna."

If Mr. Long can establish the fact that he is a "friend of Hanna" he will be in the fight for almost anything he wants. The republicans want and need a man who can cause the eyes of the "great chief" to look in compassion upon the party in North Carolina.

TO MEET HERE SOON.

The State Dental Society Will Assemble in May.

Dr. J. E. Wyche, who has been absent from his office for two weeks on account of sickness, has returned to his post, and tells the Telegram that the State Dental Association will meet in this city May 9, 10 and 11. Dr. Wyche, who is supervisor of clinics for the society, wants volunteer patients, who will be operated upon free of charge during the meeting by experts who wish to demonstrate to the society their methods of practice. It will be a good time to get an old tooth repaired without cost and by an expert whose reputation will be at stake, and the best possible work will be done.

The State Board of Dental Examiners will meet May 7th and 8th, the two days immediately proceeding the State Dental Society meeting, when candidates for the profression of dentistry will be examined.

Full preparations have been made for the meeting, Dr. Wyche tells us. Reduced railroad and hotel rates have been secured, sample rooms engaged for the display of dental goods, and the Academy of Music secured for holding the meetings of the society. It will be one of the largest attended meetings in the history of the Society, and we welcome their coming to our city.

ROUTINE BUSINESS

Occupies Most of the Time of Orange Presbytery.

Yesterday afternoon the Presbytery met at 2:30 o'clock according to adjournment and took up the routine business.

The greater part of the afternoon session was devoted to hearing the narratives from the various churches. The report of the committee of colored evangelization was heard, and, after much discussion, was amended and adopted.

An invitation was extended to the members of the Presbytery by the ladies of Westminster church to attend a reception at the residence of Dr. W. P. Beall Thursday evening. The invitation was accepted by a rising vote. The Presbytery took recess at 5 p. m. until 8 p. m.

At 8 p. m. the Presbytery met and heard an earnest gospel sermon from Rev. Joseph Evans, of Milton, N. C. After the sermon a short business session was held, and then the Presbytery adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

TODAY.

The Presbytery devoted the morning session to hearing reports of various committees. At 11 o'clock the report of the committee on home missions was heard and short addresses were made by Revs R. W. Culbertson, C. W. Robinson, C. Miller, and Ruling Elders H. Ford and Col. A. C. McAlister. The Presbytery then took a recess until 2:30 p. m.

HOOPER-WRIGHT MARRIAGE.

The Wedding at Lewisville Last Night a Happy Event.

The Telegram yesterday told of the departure of Greensboro's contingent of the party that went to witness the marriage of Mr. C. M. Hooper of this city to Miss Susie Charlotte Wright, at Lewisville at 7:30 yesterday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. A. Wood, of the Methodist church, at the residence of the bride's father, who is a merchant at Lewisville. The bride wore white organdy and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. After the ceremony the party repaired to the dinning room, which was tastefully decorated, and there enjoyed delicious refreshments. The presents were many and costly, and testified to the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held.

Stinging, burning feet can be done away with at very little cost by the use of a pair of our tread easy shoes made from the kind of leather through which the feet can breathe. You will never know what real foot comfort is until you wear a pair of them.

THE CITY'S WHIRL

Short Squibs of Local News Written in a Hurry.

The broken concrete walk at the Southern depot is being repaired.

Contractors are figuring on the plans for the new city hall to be erected in this city. Bids are to be opened on April 27th.

The city democratic executive committee is in session this afternoon to fix a time for the primaries which will be announced tomorrow.

Campaign literature in free and unlimited quantities, sixteen to any old number, is being daily mailed from republican headquarters in this city.

The strike among railway telegraph operators is still on, but all passenger trains, up to the hour of going to press today, have arrived and departed from Greensboro on time.

Mr. O. P. Johnson, who has been conducting a feed store in this city for some months, has sold out to Mr. C. W. Jennings and will shortly return to his former home in Illinois.

The ladies of Westminster church will give the members of Orange Presbytery a reception this evening from 8 till 11 o'clock, at the residence of Dr. W. P. Beall, on Asheboro street. The members of Westminster are also invited.

Mr. Chas. M. Neeley, living nearly four miles north of town, lost about seventy-five cords of wood Tuesday by fire. A passing train, it is thought, set the brush afire. The conflagration raged over fifty acres.

There is an old saying which is asserted to be true, that the leaves are always grown by the 10th of May. They are just now starting and they will have to fairly hump themselves to make it this year. They have only 24 days in which to do their growing.

REV. H. W. SMITH TO LEAVE.

Will Withdraw From the Presbyterian Church on Account of the Confession.

A Little Rock dispatch of yesterday says: Rev. Hay Watson Smith, lately called from Greensboro, to the pastorate of the Second Presbyterian church here, announces his withdrawal from the Presbyterian ministry, as a protest against the Westminster Confession of Faith. He will probably join the Congregationalists.

Rev. Mr. Smith of course is well known here, being the son of the late Rev. Dr. J. Henry Smith, and brother of Dr. E. W. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Greensboro. The church of which he is now pastor was formerly served by Rev. Dr. J. R. Howerton of Charlotte.

IN HONOR OF MISS WILLIAMS.

Miss Walker Fry Gives a Delightful Entertainment—The Guests.

On yesterday afternoon Miss Walker Fry entertained at a very charming tea in honor of Miss Williams of Fayetteville. The house was handsomely decorated throughout, and presented a picture of rare beauty. In the parlor where the color scene was pink, apple blossoms made an effective decoration, and the lamps with their lovely pink shades cast a soft, mellow tint over everything. In the dining room, where Mrs. J. W. Fry graciously presided, the colors were pink and violet. An exquisite lace piece over pink entirely covered the center table, and great masses of violets in cut glass bowls graced this and the smaller tables, at which delicious refreshments of Waldorf salad, olives, sandwiches, beaten biscuits, iced tea, ice cream and cake, were served.

Miss Fry, exquisitely gowned in black silk, was assisted in receiving by Miss Williams in white organdy over silk, Mrs. E. W. Myers in white brocaded satin, and Mrs Ernest Holt in black net over silk.

Miss Fry's guests were: Misses O'Brien, Horry, Bernard, Sarah and Margaret DeButts, Wetmore, Whitsett, Staples, Nellie and Bessie Merrimon, Balsley, Carrie, Stevens, Turner, Mebane, Lyons, Goolsby, House, Porter, Harvey, Ballard, Kase, Lizzie Balsley, Nan Mebane, Bessie Ballard, Virginia and Vivian Shober.

Wanted.

Wanted board and room for young couple in small, quiet private family living convenient to business centre of the city. Would like house with large yard and modern conveniences. References exchanged, address with full particulars, S., care Telegram office. a-16-e-o-d 2 w.

Bare feet are almost preferable to some shoes. The kind that it is necessary to break in generally make a man break out and say things. We had made purposely for comfort a lot of men's fine kid shoes in lace and congress. The prices are right.

Next to the Consumer

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.
